Reporting questionnaire

Gender equality indicator 1: Gender composition of workforce

This indicator seeks information about the gender composition of relevant employers in a standardised format, to enable the aggregation of data across and within industries. The aggregated data in your workplace profile assists relevant employers in understanding the characteristics of their workforce, including in relation to occupational segregation, the position of women and men in management within their industry or sector, and patterns of potentially insecure employment.

NB. IMPORTANT:

- · References to the Act means the Workplace Gender Equality Act 2012.
- A formal 'policy' and/or 'formal strategy' in this questionnaire refers to formal policies and/or strategies that are either standalone or contained within another formal policy/formal strategy.
- Data provided in this reporting questionnaire covers the TOTAL reporting period from 1 April 2016 to 31 March 2017. (This differs from the workplace profile data which is taken at a point-in-time during the reporting period).
- · Answers need to reflect ALL organisations covered in this report.
- · If you select "NO, Insufficient resources/expertise" to any option, this may cover human or financial resources.

 If your organisation has introduced any outstanding initiatives that have resulted in improved gender equality in your workplace, please tell us about them.

(As with all questions in this questionnaire, information you provide here will appear in your public report.)

Mirvac's commitment to diversity extends beyond the programs and initiatives in place; the Group strives to create a culture in which both visible and tacit differences are recognised and values. Initiatives that have helped us change the culture, behaviours and discussions around gender equality include: demonstrated strong commitment and leadership from the top empowering passionate employees to champion initiatives that support the strategy; CEO & Managing Director, Susan Lloyd-Hurwitz is a strong and active advocate for diversity and inclusion, demonstrated by 43 per cent female representation in the Executive Leadership Team and fostering a culture where all members feel comfortable in voicing their opinions and ideas to introduce different ways of thinking. Ms Lloyd-Hurwitz is also a champion of flexibility for both men and women and works hard to lead by example. She delivers a clear message around the importance of the quality of work produced, rather than the amount of hours spent working. She is very visible when leaving the office to demonstrate to employees that it is reasonable to work flexibly, and arrive and leave outside traditional hours. Our Chairman, John Mulcahy is an active member of the Property Male Champions of Change.

Mirvac has a clear Diversity & Inclusion strategy focused on four key areas:

- 1. Diversity of Thought
- 2. Inclusive Culture
- 3. Flexibility
- 4. Gender Balance.

The D&I Council meets every quarter to co-ordinate diversity and inclusion activities and reports to the Board Human Resources Committee regarding initiatives and progress.

Empowering flexibility for all employees to transform the way they work and achieve smarter ways of working. Significant investment in deployment of new technologies such as laptops and headsets for mobility, improved AV equipment and meeting room technology and reduced dependency on paper and storage requirements. Last year, Mirvac also implemented an initative called My Simple Thing. This initiative encourages employees to think about one small, achievable change they can make in their work day or week that will enhance their work/life quality. Examples of these simple changes could include: start late or finish early to exercise, take a class or miss the busy commute; leave early to coach your kids sporting team or play a team sport or log in later to catch up with any important matters; start later to drop your children off to school / care.

Partnership with WGEA, Telstra and Corrs on the Equilibrium Man project has seen changes in the dialogue from flexibility being for working mums to flexibility is for everyone. Strong commitment and investment by the Construction business to increase workplace flexibility.

Supportive environment for employees with families and caring responsibilities, including formal and informal flexible arrangements; 16-weeks paid parental leave for primary carer and 2-weeks paid parental leave for secondary carers; a keeping in touch program to support employees transition to and from parental leave.

Support to improve the number of women in senior leadership positions through mentoring programs, targeted development in line with talent and succession planning processes which includes measuring the strength of diversity pipelines.

Mirvac continues to play a strong advocacy role in promoting greater opportunity for women in property and construction through our memberships and participation with key bodies, including: Diversity Council of Australia (DCA); Property Council of Australia (PCA); National Association of Women in Construction (NAWIC); Chief Executive Women (CEW); WGEA Pay Equity Ambassador program; the Property Male Champions of Change (PMCC) and NSW Equal Employment Opportunity Practitioners Association (NEEOPA).
